DOG DID SUFFER WITH THE RABIES

State Board of Health Reported the Canine Killed by Fred McFatridge of Arlington Was Mad.

HEALTH COMMISSIONER TALKS

Urges Residents of This Community Take Precautions and Guard Against Similar Outbreaks.

The State board of health has reported to the county commissioner, Dr. Frank H. Green, that the dog which was killed by Fred McFatridge near Arlington last Friday was mad. The head was sent to the pathological department of the board and examined. It was found to be suffering with the rabies and the report was sent here immediately following the examination.

Another dog which was believed to be mad was killed on the Judge W. A. Cullen farm, a mile west of the city yesterday by Fred Brown. This is several miles from the seat of the mad dog scare last week, but it is thought dogs in this vicinity might have been infected as it is the custom for mad dogs to travel long distances.

The report of the State board that the dog killed near Arlington was mad has caused Dr. Green to urge special precautions be taken against mad dogs. It does not follow that more mad dogs might appear in that community, but more may show up since the first one was at large some time.

With this end in view, to warn the people of the county the health commissioner this afternoon made the following statement: Owing to the fact that the State board of health has reported that the dog's head sent by Fred McFatridge of Arlington showed positive proof of hydrophobia, I request that people in that community and in others where mad dogs are known to have been pay especial attention to dogs, cats, cows and horses. If any unusual action of these said animals is noted it should be reported at once. If any are found they should be quarantined until their true condition is learned."

The county health commission urges these rules be obeyed in so far as it is possible. He requests that if a dog, which is believed to be mad and which shows every symptom of hydrophobia, is killed, he be notified at once. If a dog believed to be suffering with the rabies bites a person, the county health commissioner says it should not be killed if it is possible to keep it in quarantine or if it is killed, it should not be buried but that the head should be sent to the State board of health so that it may be determined exactly whether or not it was afflicted with hydrophobia.

The county health commissioner says special attention should be paid to dogs, cats and horses, as they are more likely to be bitten by mad dogs than any other animals. Hydrophobia will develop in human beings, the health commissioner says, in from six weeks to three months, but this period may vary according to the age of the subject as the incubation period is not as long in children as it is in adults. In animals hydrophobia symptoms will develop, according to the health official, anywhere from fourteen days to a month.

Strict rules should be observed in shipping the head of a dog to the State board of health, the commissioner says. The head should be packed in a tight container and this container should be placed in another water tight container and packed with ice. This is done so the head will not decay.

It will be remembered after the supposed mad dog was discovered in the vicinity of Arlington last Friday there was a general slaughter of dogs. Up until Sunday dogs were killed promiscuously in an effort to stamp out the epidemic.

The dog which was killed by Fred Brown on the Cullen farm yesterday was believed to be mad as it showed every symptom of hydrophobia. It was a large black canine and was strange in that community. It jumped up to the window where Brown's dog was sitting and attempted to break through. Brown grabbed his shotgun and gave chase across the fields, finally getting in near enough range to kill it.

LOCAL PUBLISHER ATTENDS MEETING

J. Feudner of Daily Republican is Interested Especially in Address at Congress.

AT THE SESSION OF EDITORS

J. Feudner of the Daily Republican attended the business sessions of the annual meeting of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association in Indianapolis today. Mr. Feudner was interested especially in the cost congress at which Henry Allen, secretary of the Ben Franklin Club of America, of Chicago, was to deliver an address on "The Cost System in Newspaper Printing Shops and the Ben Franklin Club of America." Other addresses of interest to newspaper publishers and operators of job printing establishments were scheduled for this morning. This afternoon George W. Stout of the Indianapolis Star was to speak on "Politics and the Press" and George Lockwood of the Marion Chronicle, was to lead the discussion. That was to be followed by the reports of committees and the election of officers.

AVERAGING TWO MILES EACH DAY

Surveyors on I. & C. Route Out of Greensburg Expect to Complete Work in 15 Days.

TO COME TO THIS CITY THEN

The engineering corps under the direction of W. W. Hadly, now engaged in making the surveys for the different lines of proposed extension of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, have got as far as Morris over the proposed line east of this city to Harrison, Ohio, says the Greensburg News. Members of the corps in the city this morning say that they are traveling at the rate of two to three miles each day. They are taking complete specifications as they proceed.

At the present rate of progress they will reach Harrison in about fifteen days. As soon as the survey is made on this proposed line the corps will start out of Rushville and complete specifications for a line proposed out of that city. When the final surveys are made then the directors of the road will definitely determine which will be the most satisfactory route to extend the line.

WANTS $400 DAMAGES.

New Castle Courier: Moses Vanderbark, a farmer living near Knightstown, has entered suit against the C. C. C. & St. L. Railway Co. for $400 damages. The suit is the result of the burning of oat shocks on thirty acres of Mr. Vanderbark's farm. The fire was caused, it is alleged, by sparks from a Big Four engine.

EDITORS EAT; THEN HEAR TALK

Scribes and Friends Numbering 500 Gather For Annual Republican Association Banquet.

LOCAL MEN IN ATTENDANCE

Senator Norris Brown of Nebraska Inspires With Lucid Review of Party's Achievements.

A number of local Republicans were in Indianapolis last night for the annual banquet of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association and a few attended the business sessions of the association today. The banquet was pronounced the most successful one in the history of the association as the Republican editors and workers of the State were represented by five hundred men who were enthusiastic over the prospects of the party in the coming campaign.

Senator Norris Brown of Nebraska made the only speech on the program and reviewed the achievements of the party during the last four or five administrations. He laid particular stress on the administration of President Taft and declared it should be given further time to carry out its policies already under way.

Senator Brown pointed out that the Payne-Adrich bill has closed no factory; that it has reduced the wages of no workman; that it has denied the labor no opportunity and that the farmer has prospered under the law. His speech was heralded as the keynote speech for Indiana Republicanism and he dwelt on the future policies of the party.

The banquet was held in the Claypool hotel and at least five hundred editors and party workers were present. Many were accompanied by their wives. Senator Brown was the guest of Former Senator Beveridge during his stay in the city. Senator Beveridge, Harry S. New, Republican national committeeman; James W. Cockrum, president of the editors' association; Leo K. Fesler, secretary and Frank T. Singleton, made up the reception committee which met him at the Union station.

Senator Brown argued that the people could not turn their backs on Mr. Taft and on the good work done in the Taft administration. He said the attitude of President Taft toward the enforcement of law was a demonstration of the fidelity of a Republican President. His view of the attitude of the public toward the Taft administration was, in effect, that the people were on trial, and that they could not repudiate a good servant and his good service.

In discussing the subject of Roosevelt and the 1912 nomination for President, Senator Brown recalled that Mr. Roosevelt said in 1908 he did not desire the presidency again, and he told the truth at that time.

GEORGE OFFUTT MAY DIE

Well Known Arlington Man Not Expected to Live Long.

George Offutt of Arlington, one of the very well known men of Rush county, who has been in poor health for a number of years, was reported to be in a critical condition today and not expected to live long. Word was sent to his daughter, Mrs. Fred Winship of Chicago and his son, Jerry Offutt of Kansas City, to come at once if they expected to see their father alive. Mr. Offutt has been afflicted with rheumatism for a number of years.

MRS. W. J. HENLEY SUES FOR DIVORCE

Former Rushville Woman Brings Action in Chicago Against Husband, a Rush County Man.

HER STARTLING ALLEGATIONS

Charges Well Known Lawyer Deserted Her After Twenty-Four Years of Married Life.

Mrs. Sarah A. Henley, who lived in this city until a few years ago, and who was Miss Sarah A. Monroe before her marriage, sued her husband, William J. Henley, a former Rushville man, who lived here many years and who is very well known, for a divorce in a Chicago court yesterday, according to a dispatch from that city today.

Mrs. Henley alleges that during the months of June and July, in 1909, Henley was almost constantly in the company of women of questionable character. She says he deserted her in May, 1909, just six days after the twenty-fourth anniversary of their marriage.

The dispatch continues: "Mrs. Henley's attorney is William L. Reed. Neither he nor she could be reached tonight. Henley's residence here is at 6565 Harvard avenue but an inquirer there was informed that Henley was in Indiana. The Henleys were married in 1885. They have three children two of whom, Gladys and William J. Henley, Jr., are under age."

"Mrs. Henley alleges that her husband has an estate of about $100,000 and a large income from his law practice. Besides the house in Harvard avenue, which she values at $14,000, she says he owns a farm in Rush county, Indiana, worth $10,000."

Mr. Henley is now engaged in the practice of law in Indianapolis and is the senior member of the firm of Henley & Baker, with offices in the Lemecke Annex, Indianapolis. He has been in Indianapolis for almost two years. While in Chicago Mr. Henley was president of the Chicago & Western Indiana railroad, from which position he resigned.

Mr. Henley was born and reared in Ripley township and has many relatives there. He moved here when a young man and opened his first law office. Mr. Henley quickly rose to prominence and was elected appellate court judge while yet a resident of this city. He established a camp on the banks of Flatrock and visited it each season until recently.

Mrs. Henley is the daughter of John Megee, formerly of this city and of the Rushville National bank. She is a half-sister of Mrs. Donald McIntosh of Connersville and Edwin Megee of Chicago.

D. A. R. NAMED DELEGATES

Will Represent Local Chapter at Continental Congress.

At the meeting of the D. A. R. yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Alexander, delegates were named to the Continental Congress which will be held in Continental Hall, Washington, D. C. the last of April. Mrs. Joe Amos, by virtue of being regent of the local chapter was named as one delegate and Mrs. Edwin Payne was selected as her alternate. Miss Georgia Wyatt was elected as the other delegate and Miss Lenora Norris as alternate.

BODY TAKEN HOME TODAY

Sam Barber of Andersonville, Asylum Inmate 12 Years. Dies.

The body of Sam Barber of Andersonville, who has been confined in the eastern Indiana asylum for the insane for twelve years, and who died there yesterday of heart trouble, was removed to Andersonville today and funeral services will probably be held Saturday or Sunday. He was seventy-nine years old. The deceased is survived by three children, Mrs. Essie Cox of Andersonville and Joe and Ervine Barber of Neff's Corner, two brothers, Will of Andersonville, and Dave of Indianapolis, and one sister, Sarah of Andersonville.

THEY POKE FUN AT JAMES E. WATSON

Point Out Connersville Ban on Meetings Due to Smallpox is to Exclude Pests.

WAS TO MAKE SPEECH THERE

Local friends of James E. Watson have been having some sport at the expense of James E. Watson since yesterday afternoon when the sanitation committee of the Connersville city council, the city health board and all of the Connersville physicians met and placed a ban on all public gatherings due to a smallpox epidemic which is raging there. James E. Watson was to have addressed a mass meeting of Republicans there Saturday but this meeting had to be called off along with the others. Mr. Watson's friends have pointed that the action of the authorities was not only to prevent the spread of existing pests, but also to keep out foreign ones.

Connersville is facing a serious situation due to the epidemic which is similar to the one Rushville suffered during the holidays of 1908. There are fifteen cases reported and more are expected. An order that every one be vaccinated has been made.

POLICE ADVISED TO ARREST YOUTH

Walter Arnor, Alias Burwick, Held Here For Indianapolis Officers.

SAID FATHER WAS VERY RICH

Walter Arnor, alias Burwick, was arrested here today by Chief McAllister on the advice of the Indianapolis police. Arnor is wanted in Indianapolis on a grand larceny charge and an officer from there was expected to come this afternoon and take him back. Arnor came here about two weeks ago stopping at the Main Street House. He is about eighteen years old and the story he told excited suspicion. He stated that his father was very rich and lived in Nashville, Tenn. According to his story his father had sent him out to see a little of the world and had given him plenty of money. In Indianapolis it is understood that he went under the name of Burwick. Chief McAllister called the Indianapolis police last night and this morning received word to make the arrest.

Frank Gipson, formerly of this city, and lately of Arlington and Shelbyville, has returned here and purchased the Seventh street barber shop which he will open tomorrow.

VOTER'S PART HAZY TO MANY

Ordinary Citizen Does Not Understand Organization of Parties Now Being Effected.

PRECINCT IS BASIS OF ALL

Manner in Which County District and State Committees Are Created is Explained.

Despite the fact that in Indiana general elections are held every two years and complete organizations of the machinery of the political parties is necessary preliminary to these elections, there appears never to be a clear understanding on the part of many voters as to the manner in which the party formulations are brought and as to how party machinery is oiled and put under steam. The Republican organization, now in the making in Indiana, has for its general head a State committee, and reaching down to the voters throughout the commonwealth are the organizations subordinate to the central or State body.

In the making of this general State force, which will conduct the battle the coming campaign, the start is made with the groundwork—the precinct organizations. Precincts are created in each county by the boards of commissioners, the boundaries being set forth and defined with a regard for the number of voters therein, and precincts may be created, either by the commissioners of their own volition, or on the petition of the committees of either party when it is shown that the number of voters contained in a precinct as then constituted is in excess of the maximum number fixed by Statute, which at the present time is 500. Frequently, however, this maximum is exceeded in some precincts.

The precinct committee is by theory and practice the guardian of his party's affairs within the boundaries of his bailiwick. On him depends to a large degree the work of organizing the voters themselves. He must look after the poll of his precinct and on his correct listing of the voters as to politics depends absolutely the forecasts of results that are to follow. A good poll throughout the State has been found invaluable as it shows just where the real work must be done and enables the State committee to concentrate its working forces at the points most needing help.

The selection of the precinct committeeman is "up to" the voters of that precinct and that is what is done the State over today and tomorrow, two days being allowed for the purpose by the State committee which in its call made some days ago outlined the rules to be followed and which, in most counties, will be strictly adhered to. The voters as a rule meet in their respective townships and wards, though occasionally, as in the case of two small townships, a joint meeting is held and the selection of

LOOK HERE, MR. VOTER!

If you are vitally concerned, as you should be, in the national, State, county, and city government, you should attend your precinct meetings and see that the proper men are elected to make up the party organization. The Daily Republican today explains the formation of the political parts which reveal the great responsibility and importance resting with the men selected today and those who will be selected tomorrow.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR JANUARY 28

PRESENTATION IN THE TEMPLE.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:22-39.
MEMORY VERSES—29, 30.
GOLDEN TEXT—"For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples."—Luke 2:30-31.

This lesson concerns the matter of the presentation of the Christ child in the temple forty days after his birth. Ever since the redemption of the first-born of Israel on that dark night in Egypt, when the destroying angel passed through the land and smote all the first-born of the Egyptians, the first-born son of every Hebrew family belonged unto the service of God. As a substitute for all the first-born, the tribe of Levi was chosen to act as priests. By this, however, the Hebrew parents were not exempt from the presentation of their first-born to God. By reason of the choosing of the Levites, the first-born son of the family was released from priestly service on the payment of a certain amount of redemption money.

Joseph and Mary being righteous parents, obeyed this law and presented the Christ child in the temple. In thus presenting the child, these parents realized the great truth, which all parents should realize, that our children belong to God, and are but loaned to us. Christian parents should imitate the example of Joseph and Mary.

Mary also made a personal offering as a token of her appreciation of the goodness of God. It was a small gift, it is true, but it was the best that she in her humble circumstances life could give, and, therefore, was as acceptable to God as any offering of much higher value would have been. Would it not be a good thing to celebrate the birth of your child by making a special offering, or gift to the cause of God, to some needy work?

We have a wonderful description of the work of Christ in this lesson. He is the light of the world. Not one, but every nation is to feel the effect of his coming. On one occasion, when a Japanese convert to Christianity was summoned before the magistrates and called upon to give a reason why he had forsaken his national religion, he was told that Japan had religion enough and did not want any more; that Confucianism was good enough for scholars, and Buddhism for the masses. The Japanese convert replied, "If Confucianism is an all-sufficient religion, why is it, since the founder lived thousands of years before Christ and taught during a long life, that it has not spread beyond China and Japan? And if Buddhism is an all-sufficient religion, how is it, started by Budda thousands of years before Christ, and taught by him through a long life, that it has not spread beyond India, China, and Japan? If Christianity is a bad religion, how is it, since its founder taught three years, and was put to death when he was thirty-three years old, that it has spread over all the world?"

Jesus is the desire of all the nations. There is no satisfaction to be found in any religion outside of him. Even Simeon, representing the Old Testament, did not find full satisfaction until he had seen the Christ child.

The salvation of the world centers in Christ. He is the only Saviour. Christ is the only person who can save the world from its sin. The world had had reformers, scholars, philosophers, philanthropists before Christ, but it never had a Saviour. Jesus Christ is the only person born into the world with reference to the sins of men.

We may learn a lesson of what it means to have faith in Christ from the words of Simeon. He had seen no mighty works wrought by Christ; no miracles had been performed in his sight; he had heard no words of kingly dignity from the lips of Jesus; Christ had pressed upon this good man's heart no claims to Messiahship—and yet with the eye of faith he saw all these things in the infant Jesus. Centuries have rolled by since Simeon lived and died, and Jesus Christ has been proven beyond all reasonable doubt to be all these things—to be, and to do all that Simeon in prophecy claimed for him, and yet we may ask, "Do we believe in Christ, the Christ of the past as he believed in the Christ of the future?"

Christ is a revealer of men's hearts. A man's character is judged by his attitude toward Christ. We see in the character of Christ absolute goodness, love, truth, honor, purity. Therefore to see Christ, to see truth, love, goodness, purity, and not to love and choose him is to reveal a state of heart which, like that of Gallo, "cares for none of these things."

Simeon was satisfied when he had seen the Christ. To see him is the greatest sight in all the world. We are often asked, "Have you seen the sights in Rome, in Greece, in Italy?" And if we reply in the negative, it is hinted that we have missed a great part of life. But there is a light more important to see than any material vision, and that is, the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. Have you seen this sight? Have you seen the face of Jesus? Have you seen the glory of God in the person of Jesus? Have you seen in him salvation? If you have not all is lost.

Weak and Diseased Hearts Treated Free

By the Great Specialist in Treating Weak and Diseased Hearts, FRANK LIN MILES, M. D., LL. B.
Who Will Send $2.50 Worth of Special Treatment and New Book Free.

To prove the remarkable curative powers of his new Special Treatments for heart disease, short breath, pain in side, shoulder or arm, oppression, irregular pulse, palpitation, smothering, puffing of ankles, or dropsy, Dr. Miles sends, free, to every afflicted person, a $2.50 treatment. The worst cases usually soon relieved.

These treatments are the result of 25 years' extensive research and remarkable success in treating various ailments of the heart, stomach and nerves, which often complicate each case. So astonishing are the results of his treatment that he offers all sick persons a two-pound trial free. Our Book contains many remarkable cures. A few are given below.

Certainly nothing could be more generous. Few physicians have such confidence in their treatments. All afflicted persons should avail themselves of this liberal offer, as they may never have such an opportunity again. Delays are dangerous. No death comes more suddenly than that from heart disease. Many cured after 5 to 20 physicians had pronounced them "incurable."

Mr. W. J. Crites, Ludington, Mich., cured after 4 physicians failed. Mr. George Lee, Nevada, Ia., Mr. W. P. Runyan, Spencer, Iowa, and Mrs. Emma Scheier, Malze, Kans., each cured after 3 physicians failed. Mr. Joseph Wisler, Peru, Ind., cured after local doctor failed. Mrs. J. P. Baldwin, Mulberry Grove, Ill., cured after 6 failed. Cures from your state sent on request.

Send to Dr. Frank Miles, Dept. A 974 to 984 Main street, Elkhart, Ind., at once, for his Free Book, Examination Chart, Opinion, Advice and Free Treatment. Describes your disease.

misdirecting his money. There are more real "thrills" in the life stories of some of our foreign missionaries than can be found in any work of fiction.

Personality makes interest. The men and women who attract us are those who do things. We have little use for "milk and water" people. We admire courage and sacrifice, enthusiasm and devotion.

These qualities are nowhere better exhibited than in the lives of those who have given up much that we count worth while to carry the gospel to foreign lands. Braving all kinds of dangers, fighting on against sickness, disappointments and bitter opposition, our foreign missionaries have left us stories of heroism beside which "Diamond Dick" and his more expensive associates pale into insignificance.

The man or woman who claims to be informed as to world progress and who knows nothing of the work of the foreign missionary is only half educated. Every advance of commerce and civilization in heathen lands can be traced directly to the endeavors of the pioneer of the gospel.

As Christians we are making a mistake if we do not possess some familiarity with the biographies of those great characters.

(6.) Of which of the real children of God cannot it be said, "and the Holy Ghost was upon him"?

(7.) How would you describe the character of Simeon?

(8.) Verse 26—Do any good people to-day have revelations, or premonitions, similar to this concerning future events?

(9.) If some good people like Simeon have revelations concerning the future, why may not all good people have them?

(10.) Verse 27—What is the difference when a good man goes to a place "by the Spirit," and when he goes and is only conscious of his own judgment directing him?

(11.) Verse 28—What benefit was it to Jesus for Simeon having taken him in his arms and "blessing God"?

(12.) Verse 29—Why should it be thought wrong for a man in full health, but in great trouble, to pray that he might die?

(13.) If it was right for Simeon to pray for God to let him depart this life, why is it wrong for any aged and infirm person to pray the same prayer?

(14.) If a man is not always ready to die, why is there reason to think he is never ready?

(15.) Verses 30-32—What is the most glorious sight on the earth a Christian can see?

(16.) What effect did the sight of Jesus have upon Simeon, and what effect does it always have upon a penitent sinner?

(17.) What is to-day the greatest civilizing and spiritually uplifting influence in the world, and why do you think so?

(18.) Verses 33-35—Who are those that marvel most at the love and wisdom of Jesus; those who see Him for the first time, or those who have been acquainted with Him for a lifetime, and why is it so? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(19.) What exceptions are there to the rule that God hurts people only that He may help them?

(20.) Verses 36-39—What if any exceptions are there to the rule that when truly spiritual people of any faith hear and understand Jesus, their hearts are always drawn to Him?

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

This remedy is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If your hair is losing color or coming out, start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to-day, and see what a change it will make in a few days' time.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agents, Hargrove and Mullin,

The sentiment at the annual banquet of the Republican Editorial Association in Indianapolis last night was revealed by the cheers and applause which reverberated and echoed at the mention of the name of President Taft. The reading of his telegram to the banqueters was the signal for prolonged and stormy applause. Apparently the editors of Indiana are for a militant and far-reaching Republicanism, headed by William H. Taft, and no more potent force could be arrayed with the President.

The New Castle Times, the Henry county Democratic organ and the alleged Republican barometer solves the problem which has been worrying the minds of many, mostly Democrats, for some few weeks. The Times announced yesterday that if the first few districts to name delegates select favorable to Roosevelt, he will maintain a discreet silence. If they should select Taft delegates, the Times says, he will declare he would not accept the nomination. This will come as a boon to the many newspapers and politicians who have found it a very vexing question—the attitude of the former President. The Times should be given a vote of thanks.

Editorialettes.

We are aware that it is a little bit early to discuss the peach crop, but we are everlastingly tired of this weather talk.

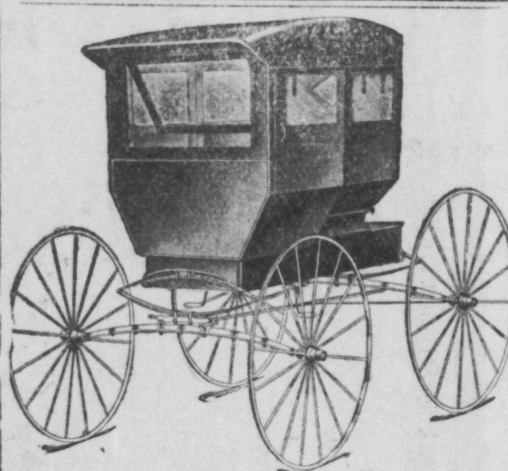

Dennis once said: "Follow my smoke." And his friends got on the trail. Now some at him would take a poke. And Dennis may not weather the gale.

We have not apologies to offer for this one. It is entirely of this Colyum's making. However, our correspondent left one under the door this morning which gave up a tip.

Most candidates should remember that they can't count on every vote promised them.

Shelbyville brags of its mosquito and Rushville of its blue bird and Connersville hasn't any mention of violets springing up on the Fayette county hills.

We tried for almost an hour today to think of a happy thought for the day and passed it up as a bad job.

It is our business to keep you warm when you want to make a drive. We carry in stock at all times the best line of storm buggies, foot warmers, robes and blankets to be found anywhere you may go; also coal for foot warmers, and when you are in town and your coal gives out don't ride home in the cold. We will refill your heater with enough coal to last you until you get home, free of charge and be glad to do it. Leave your foot warmer with us when you come in and we will have it good and warm for you when you are ready to start home. Remember that if you need a storm buggy we can supply you with the best and that the doors are guaranteed to work at all times. We also guarantee a dollar's worth of service for every dollar you invest in one of our buggies. Don't that sound good to you? Come in and see our line of winter necessities and don't forget to let us refill your foot warmer when you are in town.

EDITORS EAT; THE HEAR TALK

Mr. Brown went on to say that Roosevelt continued to say he did not desire to be President again, and that in this the former President must be believed by the people.

Senator Brown reviewed the large achievements of the Taft administration, and in his analysis of conditions and his presentation of facts as to Taft's good work on behalf of the public, provided food for thought and for the campaign use to the editors and workers.

Senator Brown, when presented by President Cockrum of the editorial association, was quick to get in touch with his audience. His fine good humor caught his hearers from the start. He opened by telling of his love and admiration for Indiana. He paid tribute to Indiana's great Republicans. He declared he was disappointed in Indiana for one thing, and that was the fact that Indiana failed to return former Senator Beveridge to the United States Senate. The names of Morton, Harrison, Fairbanks and Beveridge—were applauded heartily.

Following his reference to the tariff law, in which he showed the corporation tax feature and other phases of the act, Senator Brown pointed out that rate regulation and new power given to the Interstate Commerce Commission had been a part of Taft's work. He spoke of Mr. Taft as being on guard for the people at the time the rate question was being debated. He said while Congress debated, the railroads went on increasing rates and that Taft stepped in and actually brought about a situation under which the Interstate Commerce Commission has power to prevent rate increases. Mr. Brown defied the Democrats to belittle this service.

Mr. Brown credited to President Taft the espousal of the plan for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people; the revival of the proposed income tax amendment and the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Senator Brown declared that the fight of the arrogant interests against the enforcement of the anti-trust law had about ended. He declared the Beef Trust trials in Chicago demonstrated the good faith and determination of the Taft administration. He showed that Taft's administration, in three years, had brought thirty-seven trust prosecutions.

"If the press of the United States would tell the whole truth about President Taft," said the senator in conclusion, "there would not be enough Democratic votes in the electoral college to make a quorum."

NARROW ESCAPE FROM FIRE

Katherine Yater, Well Known Here, in Accident at Noblesville.

Miss Katherine Yater, who has conducted several missing word contests for the Daily Republican and who will be remembered here, had a narrow escape as is proven from the Ledger of that city:

Miss Katherine Yater, who is in the city getting up The Ledger's missing word contest, had a narrow escape from being severely burned Friday morning at the home of Perry Bray on E. Conner street, where she is boarding. She was standing before a stove waiting for breakfast when her dress caught fire. Mrs. Bray took in the situation at a glance and succeeded in putting out the flames before Miss Yater was injured, although the fire was burning as high as her waist when Mrs. Bray first saw her.

WILL MEET AT NEWCASTLE

The Knightstown high school basketball club will be the opponents of the New Castle high school team on Friday night on the local floor, says the New Castle Courier. The Knightstown team is touted as a strong one and the game will undoubtedly be interesting. The crisis in the local basketball will come on the night of Friday, February 2, when the Shelbyville high school team will meet the local quintet in this city. Shelbyville has not been defeated this season and is leading the league.

SOCIETY NEWS

The regular meeting of the May Donnan study class will be held in the Graham high school building tomorrow afternoon.

* * *

Mrs. B. A. Black and Mrs. Michael Cooning entertained a number of guests at the home of the former in North Jackson street yesterday afternoon. A two course luncheon was served.

Mrs. J. L. Morris of Union township entertained at her home Wednesday afternoon with a linen shower in honor of Miss Jessie L. Morris, who is to be a February bride. All enjoyed a delightful time.

The dance given last night in the Modern Woodmen hall by the Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. was largely attended and a most enjoyable time was had. A number of guests from out of the city were present including the following from Connersville, the Misses Pearl Hausner, Henrietta Jones, Frances War, Rose Devor and Alice Garrity, and Arthur Roman, Albert Kuhlman, John Garrity, Thomas Devor, Frank Garrity, James Curran and Howard Mettle.

LOCAL NEWS

Charles Sefton's telephone number has been changed from 4116, 2 L, 2 S., to 4102 IL. 2S.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Colvin moved their household goods to Indianapolis today for permanent residence.

You don't have to be a "high brow" or theologian to "get after" some of those suggestive questions; everyday problems are prominent among them.

The funeral services of Mrs. Sarah Kincaid were held this afternoon at the residence of her son, Owen, in North Morgan street. Burial took place in the Richland cemetery.

Finley Southers, age eighty-six, died of pneumonia at the home of his son near Mays yesterday after a very brief illness. His wife has been dead many years. The one son survives.

New Castle Courier: Sam Vance of South Main street still continues to be in a very critical condition. Reports from his bedside this afternoon are that he is no better and is growing weaker all the time.

Bert L. Gardner of Arlington was initiated into the mysteries of Woodcraft last Wednesday night, and five new applications for membership in the Modern Woodmen were approved by the society.

Capt. Cook of the local corps of the Salvation Army says the Army has need of food and clothing to supply the needs of some who ask for assistance. Army workers will call for donations if properly notified.

William White of near Raleigh was thrown from his wagon yesterday when he was in the act of getting into it and fell on his neck and shoulders. Although his injuries were painful there were no bones broken and he is not expected to suffer any serious results.

There will be a special meeting of the Sick and Accident Division of Burr Oak Camp No. 3548, M. W. of A., at the close of camp meeting, next Wednesday night for the purpose of electing a treasurer and transacting other important business connected with the division. Every member should make it a point to be present.

GAINS RAPIDLY.

Shelbyville Democrat: Samp Casady received a letter today from his brother, Knowles, who is taking treatment in Rockville sanitarium for tuberculosis, and he states that he is gradually taking on weight and if he keeps the gait he has been going of late he will soon be in the heavy-weight class. When Mr. Casady left this city to take treatment about three months ago he weighed about 140 pounds, but since that time he has gained so rapidly that he now weighs 172½ pounds.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace offers for tonight two good western pictures. The first is a Nestor film, "The Town Marshal." The other is a Thanhouser, "A Master of Millions." It is a stirring mining story and grips with a strong sense of reality. Both pictures are said to be above the average western productions.

The Princess will have the usual change of program tonight showing as the first picture a Selig western film, "The Bootlegger." The other picture is an amusing Vitagraph comedy entitled "Their Charming Mamma." An attraction for the near future is the feature picture "Molly Pitcher."

The program at the Portola tonight given for the benefit of Miss Curtis Lore, promises to be a big feature. Miss Hazle Lytle will sing the illustrated song. Charles VanCamp will sing "Buckwheat Cakes" and Marjory Thomas and Mary Louise Poe will give a duet. One of the pictures tells of the fight against tuberculosis and because the show is given for one suffering with this disease, it should prove especially interesting. This picture is an Edison and is entitled, "The Awakening of John Bond."

John Bond is the leading character in the story which is as follows: Mr. Bond, a wealthy politician, ignores the tenement inspector's warning to make the necessary repairs to conform with the city's laws, and refuses his support to the tuberculosis committee when asked to assist in legislation that will provide funds for sufferers of consumption.

Living in one of his tenements is the O'Brien family consisting of four children. The oldest of these is George, aged twenty-one, who is the only bread-winner. Descended from consumptive parents, the entire family is more or less affected with the disease, their wretched surroundings hurrying them to an early grave.

John Bond marries and takes his bride on a honeymoon cruise on his yacht. It so happened that George O'Brien obtains employment on the yacht, and during the cruise is taken ill. The surgeon pronounces him in the last stages of the disease—tuberculosis. His condition arouses the sympathy of the bride, who nurses the patient daily. He steadily grows worse, despite her attentions, and before he dies entrusts his watch and what little money he has to her for delivery to his sister Nellie.

Through her nursing Mrs. Bond has become infected with tuberculosis. Arriving home she sends for Nellie and gives her the brother's trinkets. Here Nellie comes face to face with Bond, and recognizing him as the owner of their wretched home, bitterly denounces him, telling him that indirectly through his neglect, his wife has contracted the disease. Bond tries unsuccessfully to place his wife in a sanitarium and is at last obliged to apply to the tuberculosis committee for aid. By trying to bribe the officials he is brought to realize the great good that is being done by the association; when confronted by his own tenement, now in the hands of one of the committee's nurses. His awakening is complete and he writes out a substantial check. Later on we see Mrs. Bond and the O'Briens recovered, and Bond, the accepted candidate supporting the crusade against tuberculosis.

Two other good pictures will be on the program.

The PHANTOM OF THE OPERA

By Gaston Leroux

Author of

THE MYSTERY OF THE YELLOW RACE
and THE PERFUME OF THE LADY IN BLACK.

Illustrations by M.G. Kettner
Copyright 1911 by The Bobbs-Merrill Company

"He said to you, 'Christine, you must love me!'"

At these words, a deathly pallor spread over Christine's face, dark rings formed round her eyes, she staggered and seemed on the point of swooning. Raoul darted forward, with arms outstretched, but Christine had overcome her passing faintness and said, in a low voice:

"Go on! Go on! Tell me all you heard!"

At an utter loss to understand, Raoul answered: "I heard him reply, when you said you had given him your soul, 'Your soul is a beautiful thing, child, and I thank you. No emperor ever received so fair a gift. The angels wept tonight!'"

Christine carried her hand to her heart, a prey to indescribable emotion. Her eyes stared before her like a madwoman's. Raoul was terror-stricken. But suddenly Christine's eyes moistened and two great tears trickled, like two pearls, down her ivory cheeks.

"Christine!"

"Raoul!"

The young man tried to take her in his arms, but she escaped and fled in great disorder.

While Christine remained locked in her room, Raoul was at his wit's end what to do. He refused to breakfast. He was terribly concerned and bitterly grieved to see the hours, which he had hoped to find so sweet, slip past without the presence of the young Swedish girl. Why did she not come to roam with him through the country where they had so many memories in common? He heard that she had had a mass said, that morning, for the repose of her father's soul and spent a long time praying in the little church and on the fiddler's tomb. Then, as she seemed to have nothing more to do at Perros and, in fact, was doing nothing there, why did she not go back to Paris at once?

Raoul walked away, dejectedly, to the graveyard in which the church stood and was indeed alone among the tombs, reading the inscriptions; but, when he turned behind the apse, he was suddenly struck by the dazzling note of the flowers that straggled over the white ground. They were marvelous red roses that had blossomed in the morning, in the snow, giving a glimpse of life among the dead, for death was all around him. It also, like the flowers, issued from the ground, which had flung back a number of its corpses. Skeletons and skulls by the hundred were heaped against the wall of the church, held in position by a wire that left the whole gruesome stack visible. Dead men's bones, arranged in rows, like bricks, to form the first course upon which the walls of the sacristy had been built. The door of the sacristy opened in the middle of that bony structure, as is often seen in old Breton churches.

Raoul said a prayer for Daae and then, painfully impressed by all those eternal smiles on the mouths of skulls, descended the slope and sat down on the edge of the heath overlooking the sea. The wind fell with the evening. Raoul was surrounded by icy darkness, but he did not feel the cold. It was here, he remembered, that he used to come with little Christine to see the Korrigans dance at the rising of the moon. He had never seen any, though his eyes were good, whereas Christine, who was a little short-sighted, pretended that she had seen many. He smiled at the thought and then suddenly gave a start. A voice behind him said:

"I Have Decided to Tell You Something Serious, Very Serious."

"Do you think the Korrigans will come this evening?"

It was Christine. He tried to speak. She put her gloved hand on his mouth.

"Listen, Raoul. I have decided to tell you something serious, very serious. . . . Do you remember the legend of the Angel of Music?"

"I do indeed," he said. "I believe it was here that your father first told it to us."

"And it was here that he said, 'When I am in heaven, my child, I will send him to you.' Well, Raoul, my father is in heaven, and I have been visited by the Angel of Music."

"I have no doubt of it," replied the young man gravely, for it seemed to him that his friend, in obedience to a pious thought, was connecting the memory of her father with the brilliancy of her last triumph.

Christine appeared astonished at the Vicomte de Chagny's coolness:

"How do you understand it?" he asked, bringing her pale face so close to his that he might have thought that Christine was going to give him a kiss; but she only wanted to read his eyes in spite of the dark.

"I understand," he said, "that no human being can sing as you sang the other evening without the intervention of some miracle. No professor on earth can teach you such accents as those. You have heard the Angel of Music, Christine."

"Yes," she said solemnly, "in my dressing-room. That is where he comes to give me my lessons daily."

"In your dressing-room?" he echoed stupidly.

"Yes, that is where I have heard him; and I have not been the only one to hear him."

"Who else heard him, Christine?"

"You, my friend."

"I? I heard the Angel of Music?"

"Yes, the other evening, it was he who was talking when you were listening behind the door. It was he who said, 'You must love me.' But I then thought that I was the only one to hear his voice. Imagine my astonishment when you told me, this morning, that you could hear him too!"

Raoul burst out laughing. The first rays of the moon came and shrouded the two young people in their light. Christine turned on Raoul with a hostile air. Her eyes, usually so gentle, flashed fire.

"What are you laughing at? You think you heard a man's voice, I suppose?"

"Well! . . ." replied the young man, whose ideas began to grow confused in the face of Christine's determined attitude.

"It's you, Raoul, who say that? You, an old playfellow of my own! A friend of my father's! But you have changed since those days. What are you thinking of? I am an honest girl, M. le Vicomte de Chagny, and I don't lock myself up in my dressing-room with men's voices. If you had opened the door, you would have seen that there was nobody in the room!"

"That's true! I did open the door, when you were gone, and I found no one in the room."

"So you see! . . . Well?"

The viscount summoned up all his courage.

"Well, Christine, I think that somebody is making game of you."

She gave a cry and ran away. He ran after her, but, in a tone of fierce anger, she called out: "Leave me! Leave me!" And she disappeared.

Raoul returned to the inn feeling very weary, very low-spirited and very sad. He was told that Christine had gone to her bedroom saying that she would not be down to dinner. Raoul dined alone, in a very gloomy mood. Then he went to his room and tried to read, went to bed and tried to sleep. There was no sound in the next room.

The hours passed slowly. It was about half-past eleven when he distinctly heard some one moving, with a light, stealthy step, in the room next to his. Then Christine had not gone to bed! Without troubling for a reason, Raoul dressed, taking care not to make a sound, and waited. Waited for what? How could he tell? But his heart thumped in his chest when he heard Christine's door turn slowly on its hinges. Where could she be going, at this hour, when every one was fast asleep at Perros? Softly opening the door, he saw Christine's white form in the moonlight, slipping along the passage. She went down the stairs and he leaned over the baluster above her. Suddenly he heard two voices in rapid conversation. He caught one sentence: "Don't lose the key."

It was the landlady's voice. The door facing the sea was opened and locked again. Then all was still.

Raoul ran back to his room and threw back the window. Christine's white form stood on the deserted quay.

The first floor of the Setting Sun was at no great height and a tree growing against the wall held out its branches to Raoul's impatient arms and enabled him to climb down unknown to the landlady. Her amazement, therefore, was all the greater when, the next morning, the young man was brought back to her half frozen, more dead than alive, and when she learned that he had been found stretched at full length on the steps of the high altar of the little church. She ran at once to tell Christine, who hurried down and, with the help of the landlady, did her best to revive him. He soon opened his eyes and was not long in recovering when he saw his friend's charming face leaning over him.

A few weeks later, when the tragedy at the opera compelled the intervention of the public prosecutor, M. Mifroid, the commissary of police, examined the Vicomte de Chagny touching the events of the night at Perros. I quote the questions and answers as given in the official report pp. 150 et seq.:

Q. "Did Mlle. Daae not see you come down from your room by the curious road which you selected?"

R. "No, monsieur, no, although, when walking behind her, I took no pains to deaden the sound of my footsteps. In fact, I was anxious that she should turn round and see me. I realized that I had no excuse for following her and that this way of spying on her was unworthy of me. But she seemed not to hear me and acted exactly as though I were not there. She quietly left the quay and then suddenly walked quickly up the road. The church-clock had struck a quarter to twelve and I thought that this must have made her hurry, for she began almost to run and continued from the stalls on the left, they found hastening until she came to the church."

MEN RISK TOO MUCH

Life insurance companies now are very careful about issuing policies to active men over 35 years old for the chances are that they have impaired their health greatly by overwork.

Of course, if steps are taken in time, this damage can be repaired. Mr. Everett Neely of San Antonio, Tex., says in a recent letter:

"My health failed lately owing to overwork, and as I did not get better after a month, I began taking Vinol. It has given me a better appetite, helped me to sleep and built me up in general so that I now feel like my former self. It is a great pleasure to recommend Vinol to everyone who needs a strength renewer."

Every man, woman and child who is in poor health, weak, nervous and run-down, ought to know that Vinol is exactly the right thing to build them up and make them strong again. It is made from fresh cod livers and tonic iron, without any oil and is delicious to take. We guarantee Vinol to do just what we say and give back your money if it does not. F. B. MRS. G. G. RICHARDSON DIES

Wife of Former Glenwood Man Expires at Grant County Home.

Relatives in the county have received word of the death of Mrs. G. G. Richardson, which occurred at her home in VanBuren, Grant county, Saturday, January 13, from tuberculosis. She was the wife of Dr. George Richardson, formerly of Glenwood and brother of T. G. Richardson, cashier of the Glenwood State bank. He is a practicing physician in VanBuren, is Grant county health commissioner and surgeon for the Clover Leaf railroad. Mrs. Richardson's funeral was the longest ever held in VanBuren, where she was born and reared and held in high esteem.

DECIDES NOT TO ABANDON THRONE

Chinese Rulers Not Yet Ready to Give Up.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

Edict Says Will Be Proper Medium for Determining Fate of China and the Outcome of That Body's Deliberations Will Be Awaited Before Any Action Is Taken Looking to Abdication of the Child Ruler.

Peking, Jan. 26.—For the present the throne has decided not to abandon the throne. An edict just issued announces that the final decision on this matter will await the result of the national convention which is to decide upon the future form of government for China. The edict deprecates any attempt by others to settle the troubles. It says the aims and desires of the throne are only for a peaceable settlement of the whole matter.

Premier Yuan Shih Kai is still negotiating with Dr. Wu Ting Fang as to the manner of choosing delegates to the national convention. He has suggested that they be chosen by a system similar to that in America of choosing delegates to the political national conventions. It is hoped that the armistice will be prolonged after Jan. 28. Both sides, however, are preparing for a renewal of the war. A report has reached here from Mukden, in Manchuria, that General Chang Yeng, the revolutionary leader, and other prominent rebels, have been murdered at that place.

The dowager empress has conferred the title of marquis on Premier Yuan Shih Kai in recognition of his loyalty to the throne. This rank of nobility is very rare in China. The only present holders of the title are a descendant of Confucius and the descendants of the three great men who suppressed the Taiping rebellion.

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

FOR THE SCHOOL BOX FROM HOME.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.

Are you numbered among the many mothers of this great nation who have boys and girls away at school or college? Then you know what a great delight it gives the children to receive from "Mother" a box of home-cooked things to eat, from solid meats, like turkey and chicken, to the frothiest of sweets.

Right here, good mother, you will find the paper bag a very present help. A plump chicken, a small fine turkey, bag-roasted and well drained and popped inside another bag, lightly greased, packs well, can be eaten without a quail, and makes a mighty fine cornerstone for the upbuilding of a proper box.

The box from home is the cornerstone of the season's supreme school or college "spread." Wherefore, make it one to honor alike your child and your housewifery. Besides the turkey or the chicken, or the brace of ducks, or the nest of smaller birds safe in their own gravy, put in cakes, pies, tarts, tartlets, sundry small and piquant meat turnovers, indeed, the very choicest things amongst all those heretofore set forth as suitable for paper bag cooking. Make, too, in quantity pricked biscuit—they will be good much longer than the average college boy or girl can keep them.

Here are a few candy suggestions worth consideration even by a "woman" freshman—or sophomore.

Fondant, which is the basis of many candies, is variously made; this is as good a way as any I have found: To each cup of sugar allow a drop of acetic acid and one-third cup of cold water. Cook in a very clean brass or enamel kettle, stirring constantly until it begins to boil. Wipe off any dry sugar from the sides of the kettle, add the acid, cover the kettle and cook without further stirring at gentle heat until the syrup, dropped in cold water, forms a soft ball. Pour out then in a flatish dish, wet with very cold water. When cool, not cold, work with a paddle back and forth until white and creamy, then put in something deep, cover with a clean damp cloth, and set away to ripen.

This formula is adapted from observation in a famous candy factory, where huge tubs of fondant stood month after month until the trained sense of the heads said it was just right for use. When ready to use, cut out a good lump, put in an earthen vessel and liquefy over boiling water. Then flavor and color to taste, and either dip into it blanch nuts, dates, figs or crystallized fruit or small rounds of hard fondant. After the first dipping, set them upon a wire rack over a bowl to drain and harden. Dip a second time if you want the candies very superior. If there is not time for this, roll while still soft in powdered sugar and set on waxed paper to dry and harden.

Fondant thus liquid, colored pink, green or yellow, flavored with mint and dropped from a spoon-tip upon waxed paper, makes delectable mint cream. Any other flavor can be used instead of mint. With orange or lemon flavor, after dropping the creams, sprinkle while still soft with finely ground nuts, or stick a tiny bit of cocoanut in the center. Cocoanut cut to shape and cream nuts, shelled whole, make fine candies if they are first covered with stiff fondant and then dipped in the melted stuff, which has been made rich with chocolate. Here, as elsewhere, put in a very little brandy with the chocolate, as a means of accenting its flavor.

Fruit squares are good. To make them, take equal quantities of seeded raisins, well chopped dates cut small, figs steamed and cut up fine, shredded citron, shredded candied peel, shredded fresh cocoanut and shredded blanched almonds. Stir all well together and spread without packing evenly over a well buttered flat dish. Pour upon the mixture boiling hot a taffy made by boiling until it crackles in the teeth, two cups sugar, with one-half cup vinegar and water mixed and one tablespoonful of butter. Let stand till the surface hardens slightly, then with a well-greased knife mark in squares. Break apart when cold and wrap in waxed paper. Pack the wrapped squares inside a paper bag.

Lastly, be sure that almost the biggest cake bagged for the box is a Lady McMillan, which to my mind quite discounts Lady Baltimore. Take for it three and a half cups sifted flour, two cups sifted sugar, one cup blackberry jam, one cup sweet milk, two-thirds cup creamed butter, five whole eggs or yolks of twelve, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon mixed cloves and allspice. Cream butter with part of sugar, add yolks beaten light with rest of sugar, sift flour with baking powder and add alternately with milk and stiff beaten whites. Add spices mixed in half cordial, then jam. Bake in layers put together with icing filled with seeded raisins and chopped English walnuts. Use plain icing on top and sides. Or bake in a large sheet inside a bag, cut square and put together as directed. The essential thing is to fill a big bag with it, so that the spread it graces shall be a huge success.

BALD HEADS NOT WANTED

Baldness is too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age.

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employees.

Probably 65 percent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny.
We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt our word, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in Rushville who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair, or baldness to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here in Rushville, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we substantiate it in every particular. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—

James J. Hill will soon retire from the chairmanship of the Great Northern their completion certain, are given as reasons for his retirement.

BRIG. GEN. PEARSON

Head of Massachusetts Militia Controls Situation at Lawrence.

SITUATION CRITICAL

Lawrence Mill Strikers Threaten to Extend Operations.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 26.—Twelve companies of militia, under the command of Brigadier General Gardner W. Pearson, are held in readiness to control any further demonstration of the 22,000 strikers. William D. Haywood, one time president of the Western Federation of Miners, now has charge of the strike. The situation is critical, for unless the pressure being brought to bear on the mill agents by state officials and other mill owners ends the strike in a few days a strike will be called in every mill city in Massachusetts.

DANGER OF A CLASH BETWEEN FACTIONS

Bloodshed Is Looked for in Streets of Belfast.

London, Jan. 26.—The danger of a clash in Belfast on Feb. 8, between the Ulster Unionists and the supporters of home rule on the occasion of the meeting at which Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, and others are to speak, has been considerably lessened by the action of Mr.
Churchill in writing a letter to the Marquis of Londonderry, chairman of the Belfast Unionist council, in which he agrees not to speak in Ulster hall, which has been the mecca of Orangemen for years, on the occasion referred to. The Orangemen have held all their great meetings in this particular hall, and they have declared for weeks past that it should not be profaned on the night in question by a home rule demonstration.

Mr. Churchill says, however, that he will speak in Belfast on that night, but in some other hall. He adds that if there should be any rioting on the occasion in question, the responsibility for it will rest on Lord Londonderry.
Everything points to a tremendous assemblage of the two factions and serious trouble is anticipated. The action of Mr. Churchill has quieted these fears to some extent, though the likelihood of trouble and bloodshed still remains.

Audience Was Disappointed.
Baltimore, Jan. 26.—Margaret Anglin, who was to have appeared in the leading role of Henry Arthur Jones's new play, Lydia Gilmore, at its first production last evening at the Academy, is ill from nervous breakdown at her hotel. A large audience was assembling when the announcement was made.

Ban on Zangwill's New Play.
London, Jan. 26.—The lord chamberlain has refused to grant a license for the production here of Israel Zangwill's new play the "Next Religion," on the ground that it might wound the feelings of members of various religions. Mr. Zangwill will arrange to produce the play in the United States.

Dishonest Students Dismissed.
Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Eleven Syracuse university men have been suspended, it having become known that they admitted having been given ination in advance of the exams. The papers were stolen from a bundle left by a printer.

Burned Opposition Newspapers.
Rio Janeiro, Jan. 26.—The trouble at Bahia has broken out again in more intense form. There has been sharp street fighting and the offices of the newspapers which have been opposing the candidacy of Senor Seabras for governor of the state have been burned.

Paris, Jan. 26.—An aviation regiment, 327 strong, has been organized

All You Need Is a Cascaret Tonight

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach,
Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases —turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

KAISER'S IRE MAY BE TURNED ON POTSDAM

Historic District Sends a Socialist Delegate.

Berlin, Jan. 26.—The reichstag is now complete, the last thirty-three rebellions in the elections having been held. The Socialists secured further victories and now have a record membership of 110 in the reichstag. The "blue-black bloc," consisting of the Conservatives and Centerists, which supported the government, was defeated in that its total membership has fallen from 188 to 159. There are 397 members in the reichstag and the house stands: Socialists, 110; Centerists, 93; Conservatives, 66; National Liberals, 47; Radicals, 44; Poles, 18;
all others, 19.

The disappointment of the Socialists over the defeat of Herr Duewell by Herr Kaempf in the palace district of Berlin was compensated for by the significant victory at Potsdam, where Liebknecht, the Socialist candidate, was elected. This is the first time that a kaiser district has ever been represented in the reichstag by a Socialist.

It remains to be seen whether the emperor will carry out the threat ascribed to him by the Conservative press, that he would quit Potsdam, close his own and the other royal palaces, withdraw the crack regiments and ruin Potsdam from a commercial standpoint if a Socialist were elected.
Although the progressive parties outnumber the "bloc," there is general confidence that the government will get majorities for the proposed additions to the naval and military establishments. It is even possible that the new parliament will survive the full five-year term.

A New Back for an Old One. How it Can be Done in Rushville.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Rushville residents would do well to profit by the following example:

Mrs. Henry Fisher, 307 W. Hendricks St., Shelbyville, Ind., says: "I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills about three years ago. At that time I was suffering from kidney trouble and backache and I felt miserable in every way. I had often heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and I finally procured a supply. The contents of two or three boxes gave me relief and I had no further trouble until recently when my back began to ache. I at once used Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved me as promptly as before. I have previously endorsed this remedy through the local papers and at this time I gladly confirm all I have said in its praise."

committeemen for all the precincts contained in both are made at the same session.

In Rushville, where precincts are numerous, the meeting will be held in the court house Saturday afternoon and the voters will select a committeeman from each one. In Rush county as an entirety there are 31 precincts and the 31 committeemen therefore selected today and tomorrow will, under the present rule, constitute the Rush county Republican committee.

In years passed it has been the custom in Rush county for the precinct committeemen to be an organization being selected in addition and the members thereof to have general oversight in the townships and wards of the workings of the precinct committeemen. The county committee of 31 precinct committeemen will meet next Monday and organize by the election of a chairman, vice chairman, secretary and treasurer and then the county working force is complete with the exception of the naming of an executive committee, which the county chairman is expected to create and which is supposed to act in an advisory capacity during the conducting of the campaign.

At the ward and township meetings it is also required that the voters, in addition to naming precinct committeemen, shall also name delegates to the district convention. This is true throughout the State and in this, the Sixth district, the convention will be held January 31, at Cambridge City. The number of delegates to the convention elected by the wards and the townships depends on the vote cast at the last general election and, as a matter of course, delegate bodies are sometimes greater and sometimes less in number depending on the vote. The district convention selects what is commonly known as a "district chairman," but who in fact is a district committeeman, and who becomes a part of the State committee the same as a precinct committeeman becomes a part of the county committee. There are thirteen congressional districts in Indiana and the committee from these thirteen become the State committee and are expected to have general supervision of their party's affairs in their respective districts.

The Sixth district is composed of the counties of Wayne, Fayette, Shelby, Union, Rush, Henry, Hancock and Franklin—eight counties in all, a reduction of one from two years ago, as a result of redistricting of the State by the last general assembly. Decatur county was eliminated from the Sixth by this arrangement. Following the selection of the district committeeman the State over, the State Republican committee will be organized on February 2, at Indianapolis, the district committeemen meeting there and electing a chairman, secretary and treasurer, and the working forces of the entire State are then in readiness for the campaign. In just the same way that the Rush county Republican committee must take care of the arrangements to select candidates for county offices, the State Republican committee must take care of the State "primary," or in this case convention, to name the State's candidates for office.

The chairman of the State committee is the director general of all matters that are decided on to push the party to the front in the campaign, and his orders are, as a rule, sent to the county chairman, and by him to the precinct committeemen. Much of the "dope" handed out, however, goes from the State committee direct to the precinct committeeman, who after all, being down in the ranks among the voters themselves is responsible to a great degree for success or failure of the orders of the director general, the State chairman.

In the selection of the candidates for congress for the thirteen districts in Indiana, there are conventions held at the call of the district committeeman of each district. Delegates to such conventions are chosen in each county at township and ward meetings, as delegates to the convention to name district committeemen. The number of delegates from the counties is regulated by the vote of the party at the last preceding election. Delegates to the State convention are selected in the same way and by the same methods, and the State delegation to the national conventions are selected by districts, with additional delegates who are known as delegates-at-large, representing the entire State.
